at CHAPEL HILL

THE CAROLINA POSTDOCTORAL PROGRAM FOR FACULTY DIVERSITY

As part of a continuing commitment to advance scholars from underrepresented groups in higher education, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity is pleased to announce the availability of postdoctoral research appointments for a period of two years. The purpose of the Program is to develop scholars from underrepresented groups for possible tenure track appointments at the University of North Carolina and other research universities. Applicants who will have completed their doctoral degree no later than July 1, 2020 and no earlier than July 1, 2015 are eligible to apply. Postdoctoral scholars will be engaged full-time in research and may elect to teach only one course per fiscal year.

Fields: Applications for study in any discipline represented at the University are welcome.

Stipend: The minimum stipend will be $47,476 per calendar year. Funds are available for research expenses, including travel.

Eligibility: Applicants who will have completed their doctoral degree no later than July 1, 2020 and no earlier than July 1, 2015 are eligible to apply. Preference will be given to individuals who are lawfully eligible to work in the United States. This program is funded by the State of North Carolina. The primary criterion for selection is evidence of scholarship potentially competitive for tenure track appointments at the University of North Carolina and other research universities.

To Apply: Interested applicants should apply online at <http://research.unc.edu/carolina-postdocs/applicants/>. Directions for the electronic submission are provided at the application site. For additional information, please visit the program website at <http://research.unc.edu/carolina-postdocs/index.htm>. Questions may be directed to director and special assistant to the vice chancellor for research, Dr. Sibby Anderson-Thompkins sibby@email.unc.edu or program coordinator, Jennifer Pruitt jennifer_pruitt@unc.edu in the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs.

The application deadline is 5:00PM EST on Wednesday, November 15, 2020 (Recommendation letters are due no later than November 15, 2020).
